I've gotten many e-mails about the city manager selection process. There is a great deal of concern about how the process has worked so far and what the future plans are. I'd like you to know what is going on.

My colleagues and I were given an initial list of over 40 candidates that we have been reviewing and parsing down to a more manageable list. The critics are right about one thing: that process has been behind closed doors. There are a number of reasons for this, most notably that many of these candidates are currently employed by other cities and publicizing their names could cause problems at their current position. It is city policy to do this for all positions named in the city charter. It's common to do this initial whittling down this way before the names, those of the candidates that have a chance of actually being city manager, are presented to the public.

Our list is down to a manageable number of candidates and we will be presenting them to the City Manager Appointment Advisory Committee. We each appointed two people to the committee (I appointed long time community leader Joan Lionetti and my predecessor Hon. Carol West) and they will have a chance to interview the candidates after the names are released on Tuesday.

The committee is scheduled to meet on Wednesday one half hour prior to the first interview. A facilitator will assist them with the format of the interviews. The facilitator will be there throughout the meeting, and will collect notes throughout. He will ask the committee to identify the strengths and weaknesses of the candidates and to identify areas of questioning that the Mayor and Council may want to follow up on.

Committee members have already been preparing questions and sending them in. After the final interview they will have approximately two hours to formulate their recommendation to the mayor and council. The committee will designate one or two of their members to serve as the liaisons to the mayor and council and to come into the executive session as needed to communicate their observations and concerns.

You will have a chance to meet the candidates on Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Mayor and Council Chambers at 255 W Alameda.

After Tuesday, if you wish to make your views known on any of the candidates, feel free to get in touch with my office at 791-4687 or ward2@tucsonaz.gov.

HOUGHTON ROAD UPDATE

Broadway Intersection Improvements: Project is complete.

Broadway Intersection Park & Ride: The contract started on Sept. 2. We have had a few setbacks on this project, but we are continuing to make progress.

The rains (and snow) we have experienced since the new year have held up our paving. Initially we were waiting for the fill material to dry out, and had to re-work some of it to facilitate the drying. Then just as we got it where we wanted it, it rained again, and then again. Finally, we are scheduled to pave this Saturday, Monday and Tuesday with the weather forecast in full cooperation.

We are wrapping up the last of the sidewalk work and landscaping. We did have to get some unexpected sign code permitting approvals on the monument signs for the Park and Ride entrance, but those permits are well on their way to final approvals.

We are still trying to get the prefab Sun Tran bus driver office/restroom building ordered. There were some additional unexpected permitting issues here as well, but those have been ironed out, and now we are just waiting for the final building drawing adjustments from the contractor so we can order it. There is a long lead time for this item, so there may be a period of time where there might not be any activity on the site, but we want to assure you it will all come together.

Broadway Boulevard to 22nd Street: We were hoping to have this project in full swing by now. Unfortunately, some of the right of way acquisitions are taking longer than we anticipated. While we work on these last few right of way issues, we have been moving forward with the contract negotiations and procurement paperwork to get this project going. We are now looking to start work in March, but may have to adjust that depending on the acquisition and procurement process. We still plan to construct this project in 18 months or less.

The utilities have relocated and the only item left is the removal of a few of Tucson Electric Power's old poles. Some of these will be removed as soon as the power for our Houghton and 22nd Street intersection is switched over to our new location. This work is currently in progress.

Art: Our artists are working on their concept designs and we hope to hear from them soon as to when we can see what they are proposing. We will keep you posted on this.

Street Lighting on Houghton: We heard everyone's concerns at our open house covering lighting, and we have been doing a lot of research and adjusting our LED lighting accordingly. We are currently looking to reduce the 3500K LED lighting level to 3000K, and will have more information as we coordinate the implementation of our lighting policy.

We thank everyone that took the time to share their concerns covering lighting, and we want you to know we are listening and making some changes where we can.
